1. Democratic Values are American Values

Democratic Values are American Values

All people are created equal and should have the same rights.

“We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable Rights, among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.”

U.S. Declaration of Independence, July 4, 1776

Democratic Values are American Values

The role of government is to ensure liberty, safety, security, justice and equitable opportunity for all.

“We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defense,, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.”

U.S. Constitution, 1787

Democratic Values are American Values

Government derives its power from the consent of the governed.

(The word "Democracy" comes from the Greek words "demos", meaning people, and "kratos" meaning power)

"It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us -- that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion -- that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain . . . and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Abraham Lincoln, Gettysburg Address, November 19, 1863

Democrats Believe:

We are stronger when we have an economy that works for everyone.

A good education is a basic right for all, no matter where they live.

Affordable, quality health care is a right and not a privilege.

Individuals have the right to make their own reproductive decisions without government interference.

In guaranteeing equal pay for women.

Democrats Believe:

Protecting every American's right to retire with dignity.

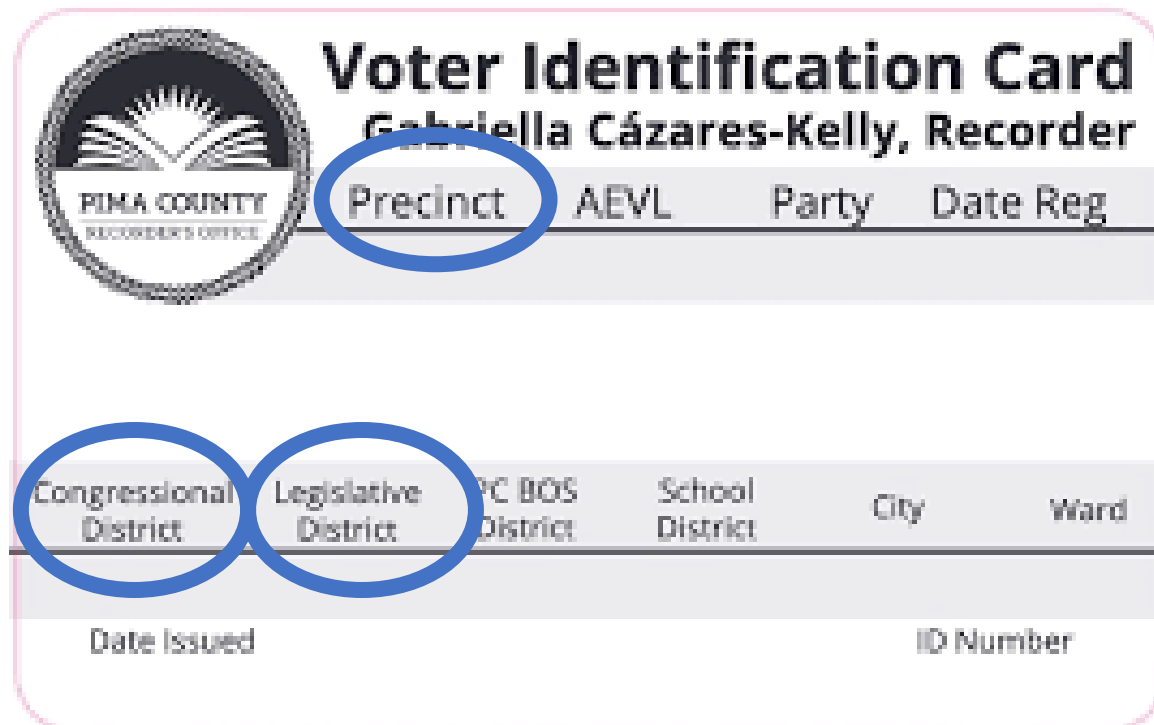

In restoring the Voting Rights Act.

Climate change is real and poses a threat to the economy and the health and safety of all of us.

We are the party of inclusion — diversity is a strength, not a weakness.
